

SYSINTA

Gestion a distance

The SYSINTA application is the ideal addition for fertigation management of any plant from their place of work or any location with an Internet connection.

Program parameters

Program irrigation and fertilization parameters for your plants. Review and set any irrigation and fertilization parameter on your plants with your PC, TABLET or MOBILE from your plant or anywhere connected to the internet.

Instant and full information

SYSINTA enables you to continue ongoing irrigation development but also provides an extensive list of standard and other reports that can be customized for your plant.

Informed at all times

Be informed at all times on your plant operations. Get e-mail reports of the irrigation performed, the consumption of water and fertilizer and all parameters that you deem necessary for the management of your plant, with custom reports selected by you at any time.

SYSINTA, constantly developing

With continuous and ongoing development, we add new functions aimed at making it easier for you to manage the irrigation and fertilization of your plants.
